

21/01/2008 ABC Notices

Class of 2008

Week 2 of the course.

One or two gentle reminders, so that you develop excellent Tyndale habits:

- Please remember your handouts from previous weeks
- Please remember a pencil
- Please arrive a little early if at all possible, so that you have time to relax / get your breath back / be sociable before we start at 7.30.
- Please tick the attendance register

Name badges

Hurrah! They finally arrived. No more sticky labels. White for students, green for Tyndalers - that way, you know who's there to help you.

Please leave the badges in the coffee room at the end of each class.

Do try to get to know each other's names; it is quite common for people to be in a choir for years and know faces but not names. After a few years of chatting to someone, it gets too embarrassing to ask!

The Tyndale Website Shop

One of the most painless ways of fund raising ever conceived by man...

If you ever buy on-line from Amazon, MusicRoom, John Lewis Partnership, or Marks & Spencer, please click through from our website Shop page.

It costs you not a penny more, and TCS receives a modest commission on your purchase. Money for old rope.

TCS does not see who buys what - your secrets are safe.

Please bookmark the shopping page in your 'favourites' list, and when you are ready to buy your new gas hob (with free set of top quality saucepans), or Frank Ifield CD, or a case of wine, or a Mendelssohn score, or a new blouse, click through from the TCS website to any of the above retailers, and if the price is right, make your purchase.

If you have any queries about how this works, see Julia (alto) or John Hicks (bass).

Julia, Secretary