

21/04/2008 Choir Notices

Rehearsal 4 of 13

A quiet week this week - not much to pass on to you this in the way of notices.

Thanks for listening

It was greatly appreciated that many of you responded to last week's plea for help in putting the church back to rights after rehearsals.

Subscriptions (not ABC – yet!)

Just because Lorna won't be with us this week, don't be shy about handing in subs cheques – your secretary has a paying-in book for just such emergencies.

Coffee Rota

There are still some gaps to be filled... and the gentlemen are welcome to step up to the mark and be 'Mother' for a week. Don't be shy.

Our Nigel Perrin Workshop

20% of the soprano places and 25% of the alto places have already been taken up by 'foreigners', with 5 months to go. For those of you who enquired about how to register, the procedure is as for the past two years - fill out a form and pay the fee to guarantee your place. Wendy has promised to bring in the registration forms this week - look on the noticeboard table. Forms are also on the website.

Workshop - St George's Brandon Hill, Bristol

Sunday 22 June

This isn't strictly TCS business, but some of us have enjoyed going off to Thornbury's workshops mob-handed, and this is another event which promises to be top notch.

There is a poster giving full details in the coffee room. It is part of the fundraising weekend for St George's, to help it in its work bringing quality live music to Bristol and its education initiatives with young people.

More importantly, it is a chance for you to sing in the most fabulous chamber acoustic venue, which is relished by international performers, and there will be marquees in the grounds for you to enjoy your picnic. It should be a good day.

If you are interested, see your secretary - if we can get 10 people together, we qualify for a discount.

And finally...

From a church bulletin:

"Miss Charlene Mason sang 'I will not pass this way again,' giving obvious pleasure to the congregation."
