

10/11/2008 Choir Notices

Rehearsal 14 of 14 This week: Part 2 (in Methodist Church)

TICKETS, PLEASE

Your envelopes, stuffed with cash/cheques, with details entered on the front, and any unsold tickets, MUST be handed in this week at rehearsal.

Those not singing – return your scores

If perchance you are reading this, but are not singing with us, make sure you have handed in your score to Doreen Manning. The scores go back to the library next week, and if yours is missing, Doreen will require you to drop it round to her home in Coaley.

Concert Stuff

Oh dear – only four volunteers have come forward to help Lisa on front of house and interval drinks.

Come on, Tyndale. Shake a leg. If you haven't got a job to do on concert day, whyever not?!!

For other information, PLEASE see the separate handout (emailed to everyone, and Luddites' copies available). I know it's a bit of a bore, but woe, misery and wrath betide anyone who asks a question which is covered in the handout.

Also, for the orchestra teas, can I please have three more cakes to add to the one offered by Sue Davies? Much obliged (cost of ingredients can be claimed).

Staging Riggers

This is a serious Health and Safety announcement:

We have drawn up guidance notes for those involved with handling the staging kit. Anyone volunteering to help with the staging is required to read these notes before handling the kit. If anyone cannot comply with all of the guidance notes, then s/he must not participate.

Even you wish to be helpful on the day, do not handle any of the staging kit unless you have had sight of the guidance notes.

John Ewer and Andrew Young have seen a practical demonstration of how the kit is assembled. They will supervise the stage rigging.

Committee Vacancies

Treasurer, anyone?

Thornbury's Workshop

(There are some flyers in the coffee room.)

We are now 6. Any more for Bach?

Another November concert

Wycliffe Choral Society, which has only this year become a registered charity, is performing on Sunday 30 November, Mozart 'Vespers' K339 and Haydn 'Mass in Time of War' at Wycliffe College Chapel, 7.30pm. See Vanessa Weaver for details/tickets.

And finally...

When all the prep has been done, and Ian's baton gives the upbeat for the Emerald Ensemble to commence the overture, forget everything else and enjoy the moment; sing your finest, and store away the memories.

To those not doing the Amberley concert and who will disperse after the concert until next March, I hope you have enjoyed what has been a very busy year for Tyndale; we started in January with the ABC project, the Kodaly challenge at the summer concert, cake stall and town hall teas, cinema picnic, the Highgrove trip, the Summer Sing, Nigel Perrin's sacred music workshop, Linda Corcoran's technique workshop, the purchase of our staging, our new collaboration with Emerald Ensemble, the recording by Bournville College students, and Amberley to come. To those who baked cakes, slaved in kitchens and over kettles, shifted pews and chairs, mentored newbies, manned stalls every Monday, joined in the events and helped in any other way, Thank You. The Society couldn't survive without your contribution.

Frohe Weihnachten, feliz Navidad, joyeux Noel, buon Natale! And we'll see you in 2009.

From a Parish Magazine:

"Potluck supper Sunday at 5:00pm - prayer and medication to follow."
