Rehearsal 1 of 15

Saturday's concert

I hope that you all enjoyed the day; the archive recording is witness to the fact that we gave our very best and sounded pretty fabulous. The recorder is also proof that at full throttle (full throat?) we can make more decibels than Chris Boodle on the organ!

Well done to all those involved in the staging of the concert; Anne Shipton, Lisa Randell and all their helpers, and especially to friends, partners, and other family members who were roped in to steward and serve drinks. Tyndalers are all very grateful for your loyalty and generosity.

Thanks also to Ian for leading us through the tight corners and having such patience and faith in us. Chris Boodle said he enjoyed the day very much, was pleased with our treatment of the 'Gloria', and went home very tired... as did we all, I think.

So that's the 20th century frivolity over with... on to mid 18th century Teutonic splendour!

Library matters...

PLEASE bring back the summer scores, cleaned of all your markings, for Tyndale Librarian Lynette. If Lynette has to chase any missing copies ...

(a) it makes unnecessary work for her, and

(b) we will incur a library fine if the set is returned overdue. When I say 'we', I mean the culprits, not the Society.

If you aren't coming to rehearsal this week, and still have your copies, it is your responsibility to get them to Lynette pronto.

Cinema Picnic

Last call for the cinema picnic this coming Saturday, 11 July. 4pm picnic (DIY), and 6pm film show of Seven Brides for Seven Brothers. All welcome – open to anyone with £5. Please see your secretary for more information.
