

20/06/2010 Choir Notices

Rehearsal 12 of 13 (almost there!)

Birthday Lunch Tickets

Mea culpa. I forgot them last week. Apologies. If I forget them this week, I'll drive back for them.

Bronwen Mills

It's THIS WEEK. Thursday 24 June, 7.30, usual rehearsal venue.

Don't miss it. Even the greats need constant coaching. Remember your scores! Bring a bottle of water and Bronwen will think you are serious.

Summer Concert ticket sales

Please remember to cross out a number on the Ticket Totaller on the noticeboard when you have sold a ticket (ie, when you have the money in your paws).

Jenni will want your envelopes back by no later than the last Monday rehearsal before the concert; make sure you have completed the information on the front, and return any unsold tickets with your money.

Ticket sales co-ordination is a nightmare job; please don't make it harder for Jenni by not co-operating. If she has to chase you, hang your head in shame. And please double-check the money you submit.

Next week's rehearsal 28 June

...is in WOTTON, in the church.

Remember: Marion Miller is your concert manager (all things facing the audience) and Liz Barnes is your concert secretary (all things facing the choir).

Arrive EARLY please, so that the fussing and faffing over where to stand doesn't eat into singing time.

Parking: try to car share. Leave the spaces on the church property for those with walking difficulties. Beware parking on the main road – I lost a wing mirror there once. Walk a bit further and park safely around the residential areas.

Staging blocks: those who are storing blocks should search their attics and garages and bring them along.

Nimble fingered seamstresses

We (at least the ladies) are indebted to Sheelagh Hudleston, Rosemary Robinson, Barbara Sanderson, and Betty Hebditch; they have slaved away on slippy material to make our summer concert scarves.

These will be handed out on concert day, and taken back in after the concert. (Otherwise we'd lose too many each year!) If there are disputes over colours, we will settle the matter like civilised ladies with arm wrestling at the font.

Tyndale Library Sale

Please see attached list of scores for sale to members, which is self-explanatory. Just let me know if you wish to purchase anything. Many thanks.

For the Gardeners among you

Rosemary Lea (sop) has tickets for sale for the gala preview of the Amberley Festival, 9-11 July. For further details see Rosemary.
